NEW ORLEANS BEATS LOCALS

ERRORS IN FIRST INNING HAND-LED THE SUNDAY GAME TO THE VISITORS, TWO RUNS BEING SCORED.

New Orleans won the Sunday and concluding game of the series from the Pensacolas out at Maxey park in the presence of a large crowd of fans.
The game was fairly well played, excepting the first inning, the visitors playing the better ball so far as fielding was concerned.

At the left, Manager Callahan; top right, Ed Walsh; lower right, Matty McIntyre.

The fast work of the Chicago American league team thus far this year has filled Windy City fans with a great hope. They are already planning on the return of the pennant to Chicago this year. Manager Callahan is more of a wonder this season than ever; he certainly is playing a great game, both in the field and at bat.

RECORDER HAD BUSY SESSION

Recorder Welsh disposed of twenty-two cases at yesterday morning's session of the police court and assessed fines to the amount of $64. However, all of the defendants were charged with minor offenses and the fines assessed were small ones.

Three defendants were found not guilty and discharged, while three of the cases were continued.

BRONSON, CLAIMANT OF WELTERWEIGHT TITLE, TO MEET PACKY McFARLAND

Ray Bronson, claimant of the welterweight title, who has been clamoring for a match with Packy McFarland, is to get his chance. A report from Indianapolis says a match has been arranged between Bronson and Mc-Farland to be decided in that city May 29. They will meet for ten rounds, the weight to be agreed upon later. This will be their second battle. They fought to a twenty-round draw at New Orleans, September 19, 1909.

SPORT SNAP SHOTS by DAN McCARTY

If you happen to be one of these red-blooded individuals who can't let a sporting event slip by without placing a wager thereon, and if you are interested in the coming mill in New York between Champion Johnny Kilbane and Johnny Dundee, take a tip from your Uncle Daniel and don't make too smashing a play on Dundee's chances.
The bantam champ and his shrewd manager, Jimmy Dunn, are following the example of other champions, Abe Attell and Ad Wolgast, in their insistence that Kilbane's adversaries in affairs of limited length be placed at a disadvantage. They have stipulated in the present instance that Dundee, who is a large-boned, big-muscled youth, weigh in at 122 at 3 o'clock.
To make the weight is going to sap his strength considerably. But then, of course, Kilbane is the dictator. This will be his first appearance in New York, the crowd probably will be a tremendous one, and with so much money in sight the boy with the Scotch moniker (who is really an Italian) can well afford to take a chance.
Stick a pin in this, though: Dundee will be a beaten man before he ever climbs into the ring. He hasn't a ghost of a show of trimming the Cleveland lad.

"Uncle Tom" McCarty is planning to put on some corking good battles at his Vernon Club arena, at Vernon, Cal., during the next few weeks. If all goes well, McCarty will be considerably richer by the Fourth of July than he is now.

A slant at his contemplated program shows a lot of good things. He starts off with a bout between Frankie Conley and Jack White on April 27, the winner to have a slam at Abe Attell on May 11. Then, on May 27, Howard Morrow, Tommy Ryan's middleweight championship possibility, will tackle Eddie McGorty. The last time they got together Edward made Howard look rather amateurish. The real big noise will be the engagement on June 5 between Sam Langford and Joe Jeannette. Whichever of the madero-hued gents survives will go after a match with Johnson. McCarty announces.

The Fourth of July card, of course, will be Wolgast vs. Rivers. It ought to be one of the biggest money-makers ever staged, with the exception of the Reno tragedy.

It's a mighty good thing for a ball club to have a leader like Harry Wol-verton, the Yankees' new manager.

The Yanks lost six games this season in as many starts, yet never once did Wolverton give any evidence of discouragement. His faith in his men remained unshaken.

"The stuff is there," he said, when impatient fans began to knock. "The boys will hit their stride soon, and when they do the team will make 'em all sit up and take notice."

The prevalent weakness of Wolver-ton's pitching staff has been an enigma. It ought to be one of the most effective staffs in captivity. There isn't a hurler in the bunch who isn't unusually equipped with reported mysteries of the cunning art. The department carries a strong array of spit-ball manipulators, some rare curve masters, and a couple of south-paw artists. Yet, in spite of all this, the work of the boxmen has been a bitter disappointment to all Gotham.

Young Togo, the Jap fighter, has been compelled to retire from the ring on account of the many beatings he has received.

Togo was one of those brave boys willing to take a wallop to get one over himself. Where he made his mistake was that all the wallops he took landed on one person, while the ones he got over were widely distributed.

Where, oh where, has One Round Ho-gan?

Punk, eh? All right, try this one.
"Why is Packey McFarland like a convict?"

"Shoot, brave Dorgan, shoot."
"Because he's going to Black-wells-1."

Turn on the juke, warden.

Harry Davis ought to strengthen the Cleveland team a lot, now that he has made up his mind to hold down the first basing job himself. Speaking of baseball's bellhops—we were you know, when we were discussing Callahan yesterday—Harry can see the ancient Jimmy and go him two or three better when it comes down to a matter of years. He's thirty-nine, is the Nap boss, but for all that his hat is still in the ring, as he showed folks last fall when Jack McIntyre, Connie Mack's wild first baseman, was laid up on the eve of the world's series. And he's a wise old bird. If there ever was one.

Charlie Dryden, the baseball writer, has a scheme for capturing the Allen gang.
"Send Ted Sullivan after them," advises Charlie. "He has dug more disreputable characters out of the bushes than anyone else in the world."

Jack Johnson has gone the way of all good prize fighters. Like Jeffries and the rest, he has bought a saloon.
It's in Chicago.

"A strictly up-to-date place," writes Jack. "Only respectable colored folks will be allowed to enter and there'll be no duets or solos of 'Father, Dear Father, Come Home' permitted." Which brings us to the end of another day's work.

They're doping Hughie Mehegan, the lightweight champion of Australia, as the man who's going to make Ad Wolgast walk the plank when Ad's time comes. Champions can't last forever, you know, and if the stories from the antipodes are true, Mehegan is fit right now to make the Cadillac wildcat step at a mighty fast clip to win.

"He's a rugged and clever mixer," says Frank Picato, the Los Angeles pug who is just back from Australia.

"He hits well with both hands—hard enough to stop almost anybody—and he's game, well seasoned and cool when he's in action."

Picato ought to know something about it. He fought Mehegan four times while abroad, losing a twenty-round decision to him in each instance.

In the spring of 1909 the Italian boyed Wolgast a ten-round no-discussion battle at Los Angeles, so he knows, too, something about what the American champion can do.
